Bellesa.co (hereafter 'the Website') is a website that features content from various other websites on the internet. Bellesa does not create, produce or direct any of the content found on the Website. As a third party content curator, we only curate content from websites that require performers to be at least 18 years of age. While these websites do their very best to ensure that uploaders comply with their terms of service, due to the overwhelming volume of content uploaded, they cannot guarantee a rate of compliance of 100%.

If you have any concerns or complaints, please direct them to the featured website, or to the video production source directly. Additionally, with respect to the records kept in accordance with 18 USC 2257, please direct your request or complaint to the site for which the content was produced. If you need help finding either of these sources, you can send an e-mail to contact@bellesa.co and we will assist you.

On our video viewing page, you can click report video if you consider the content to be illegal, unlawful, harassing, harmful, offensive or for any other reason you deem appropriate. Upon clicking this button, the reported video will be sent for review and removal immediately.
